

Cree Conceptions of Sustainability

Dr. Alex Wilson

College of Education
University of Saskatchewan

This talk will discuss traditional and contemporary Cree conceptions of sustainability and the implications for environmental protection and prevention of violence against land and people.

Dr. Alex Wilson is Neyonawak Inniwak from the Opaskwayak Cree Nation. She is an Associate Professor and the Academic Director of the Aboriginal Education Research Centre at the University of Saskatchewan. Dr. Wilson's scholarship has greatly contributed to building and sharing knowledge about two spirit identity, history and teachings, Indigenous research methodologies, and the prevention of violence in the lives of Indigenous peoples. Dr. Wilson is one of many organizers with the Idle No More movement, integrating radical education movement work with grassroots interventions that prevent the destruction of land and water.
