INCREASING CCE QUALITY

Our research supports Improved understanding and practice of effective CCE through research syntheses and case studies

INCREASING CCE QUANTITY

We are developing indicators and datasets to enable national and intergovernmental benchmarking and target setting, to spur increased CCE provision and action

MOBILIZING CCE ACTION

We offer unique learning products and engage stakeholders to support setting and achieving of CCE targets at local to intergovernmental levels

- Online Global Monitoring Data Analytics Platform to support decision-making and action
- Global Webinar Series on key CCE questions and topics
- Learning Institutes to build CCE leadership capacity
- Regional Hub Network to support regional input and action
- Reporting Guidelines, Negotiator Briefs, Factsheets to communicate evidence-informed key messages on CCE

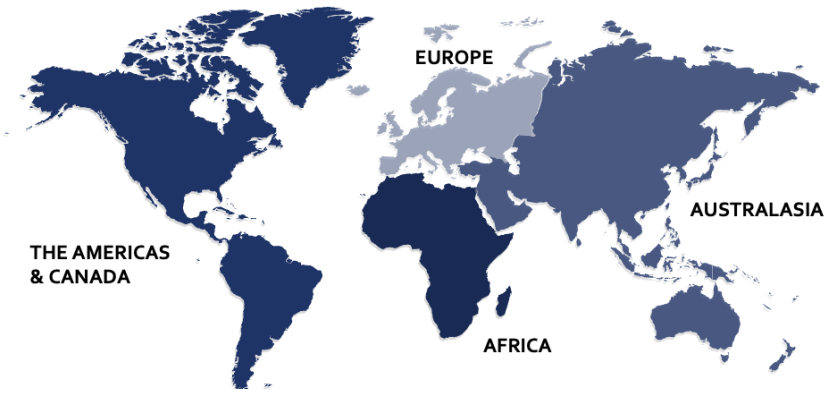
The Monitoring and Evaluating Climate Communication and Education (MECCE) Project is an international research partnership advancing global climate literacy and action through increased quality and quantity of CCE. Our research targets education at all life stages, across sectors, and at local through to intergovernmental levels.

Our partnership team includes over 80 scholars and organizations, including an Advisory Committee comprised of the IPCC, UNESCO, UNFCCC, and UNESCO GEM Report. We are a project of the Sustainability and Education Policy Network (SEPN), an internationally recognized leader in sustainability and climate change education policy research. Visit www.sepn.ca for more information.

JOIN A MECCE PROJECT REGIONAL HUB

The benefits of being a member of the Hub for your region include:

- Sharing your expertise on quality CCE in your national and cultural context
- Contributing to CCE indicator development to enable greater CCE tracking and target-setting, in your country and globally
- Participating in discussions with other researchers, practitioners, and organizations active in CCE
- Being among the first to receive access to the MECCE Project's data, online and print materials, and event invitations



Attend our launch events to learn more about the MECCE Project and explore the strengths, opportunities, and considerations your region brings to the global CCE landscape.
